C. L. STRENG & SON.

HOLLAND CITY.

1893 and 1894 have been "calamity years" for real estate and all kinds of business, but the sun has broken through the clouds and brighter days are dawning. Holland during the late financial cyclone has grown faster than any other Michigan city and real estate has held its value.

THE GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY for getting the advance in real estate, which must result from new business blocks, new factories, new men and better times in my judgment has arrived. Dr. A. C. Van Raalte after the "great fire" when our people were passing through great trials, said:—"Some day a large city would grow up here at the head of Black Lake and then I will eventually be thankful for selecting this site for a large city." The language was prophetic.

The contest was a very exciting one and resulted in a score of 17 to 10 in favor of the Stars, the Bluebirds receiving three shut-outs. Fred Jonkman umpired the game and gave good satisfaction. Another game will be played Saturday at 2 p. m. near the waterworks.

The steamer "Soo City" of the Holland and Chicago line has been thoroughly refitted and painted and left Wednesday evening on her first trip to Chicago, carrying a full load of Holland furniture, leather and other Holland tannery products, etc. She had also a fine passenger list. Our town is doing all that can be asked in the way of patronage to our home steamboat line and the line is proving itself worthy of the patronage it receives and the thrifty city it represents.

In Wood's Railway Guide of May we notice that Holland's population is placed at 5,000, while that of Grand Haven is placed at 5,500. If the railroad time tables in the book are as reliable as the census figures of the Michigan cities given in it, the book is certainly worthless. The attention of the publishers has been called to the misrepresentation, but has no effect. Give us at least 2,000 more, Mr. Wood.

Jack frost has done considerable damage in many states this week. In parts of New York and other Eastern states the grape crop has been almost ruined and fruit has been damaged considerable in a number of other states. In parts of Michigan a heavy frost prevailed several nights, but in this vicinity the damage has been very slight. On low lands some garden truck has been nipped. Wheat and grass has not suffered, clover is nipped in some places. Peaches and other fruits, excepting in a few localities some strawberries and small fruits, are supposed to be entirely unharmed as the fruit had already set and was too far advanced to be injured. The reports of frost having done considerable damage in this vicinity are certainly untrue.

That our citizens appreciate every effort on the part of our merchants to improve not only the appearance of their establishments, but also the mode of keeping their stocks up to an ideal standard by clearing out different stocks as the season demands, was clearly demonstrated the past week at C. L. Streng & Son's. A week ago they advertised to close out their cape and jacket stock—may be the cold snap was in their favor, but the demand for capes was so great as to compel them to order forward more goods. A large assortment of sample capes have been received and to clear up the entire line in as short a time as possible, the prices will be put down below wholesale figures. H. P. Streng's visit to Chicago the past week has resulted in putting before our people some of the very latest effects in summer wash goods, cotton cashmeres, figured and dotted mulls and dimities, wash silks, crepe and plaid silks. The coming week C. L. Streng & Son are clearing out the remainder of their woolen novelty dress goods by knocking the price down 25 per cent. To avail one's self of the bargains offered it will be absolutely necessary to come at the earliest possible opportunity. Sale commences Saturday, May 18th, and continues one week.

YOUNG MEN ADVISED.

CARE FOR THEIR SOULS, MINDS AND BODIES.

Rev. Dr. Talmage Responds to a Request. His Words to Those Who Are on the Threshold of Life—An Optimistic View of the Future.

New York, May 12.—In his audience at the Academy of Music Dr. Talmage meets many hundreds of young men from different parts of the Union, and representing almost every calling and profession in life. To them he specially addressed his discourse this afternoon, the subject being "Words with Young Men."

REVEREND SIR—We, the undersigned, being earnest readers of your sermons, especially request that you use as a subject for some one of your future sermons "Advice to Young Men." Yours respectfully,

H. S. MILLOTT. CHARLES T. RUBEN. F. O. MILLOTT. M. E. ELDER. J. L. SHERWOOD. S. J. ALTMAN.

Those six young men, I suppose, represent innumerable young men who are about undertaking the battle of life, and who have more interrogation points in their mind than any printer's case ever contained, or printer's fingers ever set up. But few people who have passed 50 years of age are capable of giving advice to young men. Too many begin their counsel by forgetting they ever were young men themselves. November snows do not understand May time blossom week. The east wind never did understand the south wind. Autumnal goldenrod makes a poor fist at lecturing about early violets. Generally, after a man has rheumatism in his right foot he is not competent to discuss juvenile elasticity. Not one man out of a hundred can enlist and keep the attention of the young after there is a bald spot on the cranium.

I attended a large meeting in Philadelphia assembled to discuss how the Young Men's Christian association of that city might be made more attractive for young people, when a man arose and made some suggestions with such lugubrious tone of voice and a manner that seemed to deplore that everything was going to ruin, when an old friend of mine, at 75 years as young in feeling as any one at 20, arose and said, "That good brother who has just addressed you will excuse me for saying that a young man would no sooner go and spend an evening among such funeral tones of voice and funeral ideas of religion which that brother seems to have adopted than he would go and spend the evening in Laurel Hill cemetery." And yet these young men of Ohio and all young men have a right to ask those who have had many opportunities of studying this world and the next world to give helpful suggestion as to what theories of life one ought to adopt and what dangers he ought to shun. Attention, young men. First, get your soul right. You see, that is the most valuable part of you. It is the most important room in your house. It is the parlor of your entire nature. Put the best pictures on its walls. Put the best music under its arches. It is important to have the kitchen right, and the dining room right, and the cellar right, and all the other rooms of your nature right; but, oh! the parlor of the soul! Be particular about the guests who enter it. Shut its doors in the faces of those who would despoil and pollute it. There are princes and kings who would like to come into it, while there are assassins who would like to come out from behind its curtains, and with silent foot attempt the desperate and murderous. Let the king come in. He is now at the door. Let me be usher to announce his arrival, and introduce the king of this world, the king of all worlds, the king eternal, immortal, invisible. Make room. Stand back. Clear the way. Bow, kneel, worship the king. Have him once for your guest, and it does not make much difference who comes or goes. Would you have a warrant against moral disaster and surety of a noble career? Read at least one chapter of the Bible on your knees every day of your life.

Word the next: Have your body right. "How are you?" I often say when I meet a friend of mine in Brooklyn. He is over 70, and alert and vigorous, and very prominent in the law. His answer is, "I am living on the capital of a well spent youth." On the contrary, there are hundreds of thousands of good people who are suffering the results of early sins. The grace of God gives one a new heart, but not a new body. David, the Psalmist, had to cry out, "Remember not the sins of my youth." Let a young man make his body a wine closet, or a rum jug, or a whisky cask, or a beer barrel, and smoke poisoned cigarettes until his hand trembles, and he is black under the eyes, and his cheeks fall in, and then at some church seek and find religion; yet all the praying he can do will not hinder the physical consequences of natural law fractured. You six young men of Ohio and all the young men, take care of your eyes, those windows of the soul. Take care of your ears, and listen to nothing that depraves. Take care of your lips, and see that they utter no profanities. Take care of your nerves by enough sleep and avoiding unhealthy excitement, and by taking outdoor exercise, whether by ball or skate or horseback, lawn tennis or exhilarating bicycle, if you sit upright and do not join that throng of several hundred thousands who by the wheel are cultivating crooked backs and cramped chests and deformed bodies, rapidly coming down toward all fours, and the attitude of the beasts that perish. Anything that bends body, mind or soul to the earth is unhealthy. Oh, it is a grand thing to be well, but do not depend on pharmacy and the doctors to make you well. Stay well. Read John Todd's Manual and Combs' Physiology and everything you can lay your hands on about mastication and digestion and assimilation. Where you find one healthy man or woman, you find 50 half dead.

From my own experience I can testify that, being a disciple of the gymnasium, many a time just before going to the parallel bars and punching bags and pulleys and weights, I thought Satan was about taking possession of society and the church and the world, but after one hour of climbing and lifting and pulling I felt like hastening home so as to be there when the millennium set in. Take a good stout run every day. I find in that habit, which I have kept up since at 18 years I read the aforesaid Todd's Manual, more recuperation than in anything else. Those six men of Ohio will need all possible muscle and development before they get through the terrific struggle of this life.

Word the next: Take care of your intellect. Here comes the flood of novel-ettes, 99 out of 100 belittling to every one that opens them. Here come depraved newspapers, submerging good and elevated American journalism. Here comes a whole perdition of printed abomination, dumped on the breakfast table and tea table and parlor table. Take at least one good newspaper with able editorial and reporters' columns mostly occupied with helpful intelligence, announcing marriages and deaths and reformatory and religious assemblages, and charities bestowed, and the doings of good people, and giving but little place to nasty divorce cases, and stories of crime, which, like cobras, sting those that touch them. Oh, for more newspapers that put virtue in what is called great primer type and vice in nonpareil or agate!

You have all seen the photographer's negative. He took a picture from it ten or 20 years ago. You ask him now for a picture from that same negative. He opens the great chest containing the black negatives of 1885 or 1875, and he reproduces the picture. Young men, your memory is made up of the negatives of an immortal photography. All that you see or hear goes into your soul to make pictures for the future. You will have with you till the judgment day the negatives of all the bad pictures you have ever looked at, and of all the debauched scenes you have read about. Show me the newspapers you take and the books you read, and I will tell you what are your prospects for well being in this life, and what will be your residence a million years after the star on which we now live shall have dropped out of the constellation. I never travel on Sunday unless it be a case of necessity or mercy. But last autumn I was in India in a city plague stricken. By the hundreds the people were down with fearful illness. We went to the apothecary's to get some preventive of the fever, and the place was crowded with invalids, and we had no confidence in the preventive we purchased from the Hindoos. The mail train was to start Sabbath evening. I said, "Frank, I think the Lord will excuse us if we get out of this place with the first train," and we took it, not feeling quite comfortable till we were hundreds of miles away. I felt we were right in flying from the plague. Well, the air in many of our cities is stricken through with a worse plague—the plague of corrupt and damnable literature. Get away from it as soon as possible. It has already ruined the bodies, minds and souls of a multitude which, if stood on solid ground, would reach from New York Battery to Golden Horn. The plague! The plague! Word the next: Never go to any place where you would be ashamed to die. Adopt that plan, and you will never go to any evil amusement, nor be found in compromising surroundings. How many of men called suddenly out of this world, and the newspapers surprised us when they mentioned the locality and the companionship. To put it on the least important ground, you ought not to go to any such forbidden place, because if you depart this life in such circumstances you put officiating ministers in great embarrassment. You know that some of the ministers believe that all who leave this life go straight to heaven, however they have acted in this world, or whatever they have believed. To get you through from such surroundings is an appalling theological undertaking. One of the most arduous and besetting efforts of that kind that I ever knew of was at the obsequies of a man who was found dead in a snow-bank with his rum jug close beside him. But the minister did the work of happy transference as well as possible, although it did seem a little inappropriate when he read: "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord. They rest from their labors, and their works do follow them." If you have no mercy upon yourself have mercy upon the minister who may be called to officiate after your demise. Die at home, or in some place of honest business, or where the laughter is clean, or amid companionships pure and elevating. Remember that any place we go to may become our starting point for the next world. When we enter the harbor of heaven, and the officer of light comes aboard, let us be able to show that our clearing papers were dated at the right port.

Word the next: Do not rate yourself too high. Better rate yourself too low. If you rate yourself too low the world will say, "Come up." If you rate yourself too high the world will say, "Come down." It is a bad thing when a man gets so exaggerated an idea of himself as did Earl of Buchan, whose speech Ballantyne, the Edinburgh printer, could not set up for publication because he had not enough capital I's among his type. Remember that the world got along without you near 6,000 years before you were born, and unless some meteor collides with us, or some internal explosion occurs, the world will probably last several thousand years after you are dead.

Word the next: Do not postpone too long doing something decided for God, humanity and yourself. The greatest things have been done before 40 years of age. Pascal at 16 years of age, Grotius at 17, Romulus at 20, Pitt at 22, Whitefield at 24, Bonaparte at 27, Ignatius Loyola at 30, Raphael at 37, had made the world feel their virtue or their vice, and the biggest strokes you will probably make for the truth or against the truth will be before you reach the meridian of life. Do not wait for something to turn up. Go to work and turn it up. There is no such thing as good luck. No man that ever lived has had a better time than I have had; yet I never had any good luck. But instead thereof, a kind Providence has crowded my life with mercies. You will never accomplish much as long as you go at your work on the minute you are expected and stop at the first minute it is lawful to quit. The greatly useful and successful men of the next century will be those who began half an hour before they were required and worked at least half an hour after they might have quit. Unless you are willing sometimes to work 12 hours of the day you will remain on the low levels, and your life will be a prolonged humdrum.

Word the next: Remember that it is only a small part of our life that we are to pass on earth. Less than your finger nail compared with your whole body is the life on earth when compared with the next life. I suppose there are not more than half a dozen people in this world 100 years old. But a very few people in any country reach 80. The majority of the human race expire before 30. Now, what an equivoque in such a consideration. If things go wrong it is only for a little while. Have you not enough moral pluck to stand the jostling and the injustices, and the mishaps of the small parenthesis between the two eternities? It is a good thing to get ready for the one mile this side the marble slab, but more important to get fixed up for the interminable miles which stretch out into the distances beyond the marble slab. A few years ago on the Nashville and New Orleans railroad we were waked up early in the morning, and told we must take our trunks for some distance. "Why?" we all asked. But we soon saw for ourselves that, while the first four or five spans of the bridge were up, farther on there was a span that had fallen, and we could not but shudder at what might have been the possibilities. When your rail train starts on a long bridge you want to be sure that the first span of the bridge is all right, but what if farther on there is a span of the bridge that is all wrong; how then? what then? In one of the western cities the freshets had carried away a bridge, and a man knew that the express train would soon come along. So he lighted a lantern and started up the track to stop the train. But before he had got far enough up the track the wind blew out the light of his lantern, and standing in the darkness as the train came up he threw the lantern into the locomotive, crying, "Stop! Stop!" And the warning was in time to halt the train. And if any of you by evil habits are hastening on toward brink or precipice or fallen span, I throw this Gospel lantern at your mad career: Stop! Stop! The end thereof is death! Young man, you are caged now by many environments, but you will after awhile get your wings out.

Some one caged a Rocky Mountain eagle and kept him shut up between the wires until all the spirit and courage had gone out of it. Released one day from the cage, the eagle seemed to want to return to its former prison. The fact was that the eagle had all gone out of him. He kept his wings down. But after awhile he looked up at the sun, turning his head first this side and then that side, and then spread one wing and then the other wing, and began to mount, until the hills were far under his feet, and he was out of sight in the empyrean. My brother, when you leave this life, if by the grace of God you are prepared, you will come out of the cage of this hindering mortality, and looking up to the heavenly heights you will spread wing for immortal flight, leaving sun and moon and stars beneath in your ascent to glories that never fade and splendors which never die. Your body is the cage. Your soul is the eagle.

Word the next: Fill yourself with biographies of men who did gloriously in the business or occupation or profession you are about to choose or have already chosen. Going to be a merchant? Read up Peter Cooper and Abbot Lawrence and James Lenox and William E.

is because they married nonentities and never got over it. The only thing that Job's wife proposed for his boils was a warm poultice of profanity, saying, "Curse God and die." It adds to our admiration of John Wesley the manner in which he conquered domestic unhappiness. His wife had slandered him all over England until, standing in his pulpit in City Road chapel, he complained to the people, saying, "I have been charged with every crime in the catalogue except drunkenness," when his wife arose in the back part of the church and said, "John, you know you were drunk last night." Then Wesley exclaimed, "Thank God, the catalogue is complete." When a man marries he marries for heaven or hell, and it is more so when a woman marries. You six young men in Fayette, O., had better look out.

Word the next: Do not rate yourself too high. Better rate yourself too low. If you rate yourself too low the world will say, "Come up." If you rate yourself too high the world will say, "Come down." Dodge and George Peabody. See how most of the merchants at the start munched their noonday luncheon, made up of dry bread and a hunk of cheese, behind a counter or in a storeroom, as they started in a business which brought them to the top of influences which enabled them to bless the world with millions of dollars consecrated to hospitals and schools and churches and private benefactions, where neither right hand nor left hand knew what the other hand did. Going to be a physician? Read up Harvey and Gross and Sir Adam Clarke and James Y. Simpson, the discoverer of chloroform as an anesthetic, and Leslie Keeley, who, notwithstanding all the damage done by his incompetent imitators, stands one of the greatest benefactors of the centuries, and all the other mighty physicians who have mended broken bones, and enthroned again deposed intellects, and given their lives to healing the long, deep gash of the world's agony. Going to be a mechanic? Read up the inventors of sewing machines and cotton gins and life saving apparatus, and the men who as architects and builders and manufacturers and day laborers have made a life of 30 years in this century worth more than the full 100 years of any other century.

You six young men of Ohio, and all the other young men, instead of wasting your time on dry essays as to how to do great things, go to the biographical alcove of your village or city library, and acquaint yourselves with men who in the sight of earth and heaven and hell did the great things. Remember the greatest things are yet to be done. If the Bible be true, or as I had better put it, since the Bible is beyond all controversy true, the greatest battle is yet to be fought, and compared with it Saragossa and Gettysburg and Sedan were child's play with toy pistols. We even know the name of the battle, though we are not certain as to where it will be fought. I refer to Armageddon. The greatest discoveries are yet to be made. A scientist has recently discovered in the air something which will yet rival electricity. The most of things have not yet been found out. An explorer has recently found in the valley of the Nile a whole fleet of ships buried ages ago where now there is no water. Only six out of the 800 grasses have been turned into food like the potato and the tomato. There are hundreds of other styles of food to be discovered. Aerial navigation will yet be made as safe as travel on the solid earth. Cancers and consumptions and leprosy are to be transferred from the catalogue of incurable disease to the curable. Medical men are now successfully experimenting with modes of transferring diseases from weak constitutions which cannot throw them off to stout constitutions which are able to throw them off. Worlds like Mars and the moon will be within hailing distance, and instead of confining our knowledge to their canals and their volcanoes they will signal all styles of intelligence to us, and we will signal all styles of intelligence to them.

Coming times will class our boasted nineteenth century with the dark ages. Under the power of gospelization the world is going to be so improved that the sword and the musket of our time will be kept in museums as now we look at thumb screws and ancient instruments of torture. Oh, what opportunities you are going to have, young men all the world over, under 30. How thankful you ought to be that you were not born any sooner. Blessed are the cradles that are being rocked now. Blessed are the students in the freshman class. Blessed those who will yet be young men when the new century comes in, in five or six years from now. This world was hardly fit to live in in the eighteenth century. I do not see how the old folks stood it. During this nineteenth century the world has by Christianizing and educational influences been fixed up until it does very well for temporary residence. But the twentieth century! Ah, that will be the time to see great sights and do great deeds. Oh, young men, get ready for the rolling in of that mightiest and grandest and most glorious century that the world has ever seen! Only five summers more; five autumns more; five winters more; five springs more, and then the clock of time will strike the death of the old century and the birth of the new. I do not know what sort of a December night it will be when this century lies down to die; whether it will be starlit or tempestuous; whether the snows will be drifting or the soft winds will breathe upon the pillow of the expiring centenarian. But millions will mourn its going, for many have received from it kindnesses innumerable, and they will kiss farewell the aged brow wrinkled with so many vicissitudes.

Old nineteenth century of weddings and burials, of defeats and victories, of nations born and nations dead, thy pulses growing feebler now, will soon stop on that 31st night of December! But right beside it will be the infant century, held up for baptism. Its smooth brow will glow with bright expectations. The then more than 1,700,000,000 inhabitants of the earth will hail its birth and pray for its prosperity. Its reign will be for a hundred years, and the most of your life, I think, will be under the sway of its scepter. Get ready for it. Have your heart right, your nerves right, your brain right, your digestion right. We will hand over to you our commerce, our mechanism, our arts and sciences, our professions, our pulpits, our inheritance. We believe in you. We trust you. We pray for you. We bless you. And though by the time you get into the thickest of the fight for God and righteousness we may have disappeared from earthly scenes, we will not lose our interest in your struggle, and if the dear Lord will excuse us for a little while from the temple service and the house of many mansions we will come out on the battlements of Jasper and cheer you, and perhaps if that night of this world be very quiet you may hear our voices dropping from afar as we cry, "Be thou faithful unto death, and thou shalt have a crown!"

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paragoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Pitcher is on every wrapper.

The Nicaraguan and Venezuelan affairs have recently brought the Monroe Doctrine into prominence.

Nancy Hanks Lincoln died October 5, 1818, aged 35 years.

North Sea and Baltic canal is completed. The opening ceremonies will take place in June.

The "pocket-veto" was first used by President Jackson in 1829. When congress adjourns before the expiration of ten days from the time a bill was passed it does not become a law the same as though the president had vetoed it. This method of retaining a bill just before congress adjourns by keeping it is called a pocket-veto.

Francis Marion was known as "Swamp Fox;" John Elliott as the "Indian Apostle;" United States as "Brother Jonathan;" Andrew Jackson as "Long Knife" and Horatio Seymour as the "Sage of Deerfield;" Samuel J. Tilden as the "Sage of Greystone;" John Hancock and Samuel Adams as "Arch-rebels;" John Andre as "John Anderson."

General Wilkinson, governor of Louisiana Territory, exposed Burr's plot.

Jefferson's fame was built on the following: He was the originator of religious freedom in the United States; he wrote the Declaration of Independence; he founded our decimal system of money; he is the founder of the University of Virginia, and his great success as President.

Jane McCrea and Mrs. Caldwell were both shot in the Revolutionary War.

The East and West India companies were formed in Holland for trade with those ports. The latter was chartered in 1626 for twenty-four years. The Ohio company was organized in 1748. Some of the prominent members were Thomas Lee, Robert Dinwiddie, Augustus and Lawrence Washington, and Colonel Cresap. Christopher Gist, Washington's guide, was surveyor. The object of the company was to sustain England's right and claims to the land along the Ohio.

The first Baptist church was founded by Roger Williams in 1636 at Providence. Ezekiel Holliman baptized Williams and Williams in turn baptized Holliman and his first congregation, ten in number.

Spelling exercise—[Michigan's 800]:—

That the capital city of Michigan is a capital place in which to reside is an assertion that ought not to be contradicted.

The small boy who addressed this epistle to Superintendent Pattengill is by no means the only individual who cannot spell his name correctly.

The dairy maid each week sold butter she made and every Saturday night spent some time adding up the sum of her small earnings.

When the mail arrived we learned that a male cousin was coming on the next train, with seven small children, who always accompanied him on his annual travels.

The societies he organized were numerous and all bore different names though without much real difference in the principles underlying them or the objects they sought.

NO HOPE FOR LABOR MEN.

The Legislature Will Not Recognize Their Demands.

Frank McPhillips of Jackson who has been at Lansing during the session of the legislature, was in the city yesterday and to a friend expressed the opinion that labor would get less from the present legislature than from any previous one. "There is no doubt," said Mr. McPhillips, "that the present legislature was elected in the interests of corporations and monopolies, and the people as a whole stand no chance whatever of securing the enactment of a single measure in their interests. The amendment to the organic law, the referendum, which is the chief measure in the interest of labor, will be effectually defeated. It is to be regretted that there is no hope for us with the present legislature, and we might as well recognize the fact first as last."—Press.

Cincinnati, O., May 9.—John Cameron, one of the best known men about town, died today from the excessive use of cigarettes. The deceased started to death and from 180 pounds he fell to 90 pounds. Cameron smoked fifty to seventy-five cigarettes a day. He was chief clerk of the Board of Health and took an active part in politics.

THIS IS A PROGRESSIVE AGE.

New and Startling Discoveries are Made Daily.

The greatest discovery for sufferers of catarrh, Hay fever, Asthma is Mayers' Magnetic Catarrh Cure. Its wonderful cures since its discovery are known to thousands.

This grand medicine will positively cure all forms of these terrible diseases. It accomplishes what no other remedy has done. So simple a child can use it. No cure no pay. One bottle will do the work and lasts for a three months' treatment. Entirely new, no other remedy made like it. This is what the eminent Dr. Henry Carrington Alexander, D. D., LL. D., has to say of its marvelous cure:

THE MAYERS DRUG CO., OAKLAND, MD.
Gentlemen:—Ever since I have tried your famous catarrh remedy I have intended to give you a voluntary testimonial of its efficiency. I have been a sufferer for years from nasal and post nasal catarrh, and the bone in my nose has been visibly changed in its shape.

After a trial of all manner of good and indifferent recipes, I have no hesitation in pronouncing your Magnetic Catarrh Cure the best, the speediest and most effective remedy I have yet encountered. I wish to predict your success in the effort to demonstrate the value of your new device in the way of a truly scientific and meritorious inhalant. You have made me your ever- lasting debtor.

I am my dear sirs,
Yours faithfully,

With so remarkably fine breeding in the most fashionable lines of the day, we are confident that ERWIN will more than fulfill all we claim for him as a sire and his progeny will find a ready market at highly paying prices in the near future.

Thanking our patrons for their past favors, we extend a cordial invitation to you and to the breeding and horse loving public to come and examine this horse and his colts for themselves and you will be convinced.

All Correspondence will receive prompt attention!

ATTACKED BY AN EAGLE.

Two California Boys Attempted to Destroy Its Nest.

Ukiah, Cal., May 10.—In Bachelor valley, near this city, a big bald eagle made a fierce attack on an 8-year-old boy, and had it not been for the arrival of assistance, the boy might have been fatally injured. The big bird of prey has been recently destroying lambs on the ranch of J. H. Briggs in the valley. Briggs' two sons—William, aged 12, and Edward, aged 8 years—decided to climb the rocky crag where the eagle had its nest with a view to killing it and destroying the nest, when the big bird suddenly swooped down upon them and fiercely attacked the younger boy with beak and talons. It destroyed the boy's left eye and injured the right, besides lacerating his head and face. The brother was powerless to render assistance, and Eddie might have been much more seriously injured had not the boy's father arrived on the scene and driven off the eagle.

Chicago, May 12.—A special bulletin issued by the weather bureau today says: The frost area reported this morning is unusually extensive and severe for this time of the year, frost occurring in all fifteen states for which it was forecasted Saturday. In portions of the peach belt of Michigan and the cranberry marshes of Wisconsin the temperature was below freezing and the frost was of a killing nature, as also throughout the remaining of those states and northwestern Illinois, Iowa, eastern Minnesota, Nebraska and northern Missouri. Frost more or less severe occurred throughout all the states of the upper lake region, middle and upper Mississippi valley and the east slope of the mountains.

CUT THEM TO PIECES.

Three Thousand Spaniards Wiped Out by Gomez, So the Cubans Say.

Tampa, Fla., May 10.—Passengers on the steamer Mascotte say the condition of things is encouraging to the insurgents in Cuba. They said Camagney had been invaded by Gomez and that he with 3,000 insurgents besieged Guaimaro on Monday. There were about 2,000 Spaniards in the city and after the fighting became disastrous for the besieged, the regiment of Cadiz, numbering about 2,500, arrived, attacking the Cubans in the rear.

Gomez quickly recovered from the first onslaught, and while a small force kept up the conflict with the forces of the city, his main body faced the new enemy. The fighting was very fierce, but resulted in a victory for the insurgents. The regiment of Cadiz was routed and cut to pieces by the pursuing Cubans.

The city was taken and is now in possession of the Cubans. The Cuban loss in killed and wounded was put at 700, while the Spanish loss in killed and wounded was 3,000.

The old soldiers of South Haven are desirous of raising money to build a memorial hall and the "chain of letters" system has been resorted to as a means of collecting the cash. A mathematical genius on the Jackson Patriot received one of the letters and figured out that could the chain of twenty letters be completed without a break, the comfortable sum of $522,220,680, at ten cents a letter, would be raised.

WE WANT TO TELL YOU

Why Your Back is Lame—Why it Aches and Pains, and How to Cure it.

Do you know what it is to have a back that is never free from aches and constant pain, a lame back, a sore back, an aching back, in fact, a back that makes your life a burden? What have you done for it? And does it still keep you from the happiness that perfect health brings to all? We know full well if such is your condition a cure for it will be a blessing you no doubt desire. Plasters won't do it, but may assist in bringing strength. Liniment won't do it; for, while it may give temporary relief, it does not reach the cause. The cause, there's the point; there's where to make the attack. Most backaches come from disordered kidneys, therefore you must correct their action if you would be cured. Read the following from D. D. Cook, whose address is No. 18 Michigan Street, Grand Rapids. He says:—

"I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and wish to say it is a truly great medicine. Thirty years ago I had nervous prostration while in the army, where I served for over four years. I think it was during this service that the seeds were sown which have caused all my trouble. Severe bilious attacks bothered me, and at such times my kidneys were worse. It is almost impossible to describe the pain which so often lamed me. I have been so lame that to stand up after I had been sitting down required a great exertion. Walking was at times an impossibility, even at night I did not rest, being forced to get up during the night. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and wondered if they could make an almost lame man well. I got some, and soon after taking them began to feel their good effects. I used them for some time, my lameness all left me and I have not felt it since. Doan's Kidney Pills have done me an inestimable amount of good."

THE YAKIMA VALLEY.

The interest in this new farming region is widespread. Sage brush gives way to Orchards, Hop Fields and Vineyards. Jack Rabbits make way for Chickens—Health and Wealth run along together—Rain, always uncertain, is discounted by large IRRIGATING CANALS and water never fails and is used whenever wanted.

Send to CHAS. S. FEE, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Northern Pacific Railroad Co., St. Paul, for their irrigation pamphlet—THE YAKIMA VALLEY.

Persons who sympathize with the afflicted will rejoice with D. E. Carr of 1235 Harrison street, Kansas City. He is an old sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism, but has not heretofore been troubled in this climate. Last winter he went up into Wisconsin, and in consequence has had another attack. "It came upon me again very acute and severe," he said. "My joints swelled and became inflamed; sore to touch or almost to look at. Upon the urgent request of my mother-in-law I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm to reduce the swelling and ease the pain, and to my agreeable surprise, it did both. I have used three fifty-cent bottles and believe it to be the finest thing for rheumatism, pains, and swellings extant. For sale by H. Walsh, druggist.

Save the Fish.

EDITOR TIMES:—We desire to call the attention of the people of Holland to sections one, two and fourteen of the general fish laws.

SEC. 1. The people of the state of Michigan enact, that no person shall catch or take from any lake, river, or stream of this state, by any means whatever, any speckled trout, land-locked salmon, grayling or California trout, from the first day of September in each year until the first day of May following thereafter; nor shall any person catch or take any muscalonge, or any black, strawberry, green, or white bass, by any means whatever, except by hook and line, from any such lake, river, or stream, from the first day of March in each year to the first day of July following thereafter.

SEC. 2. No person shall knowingly purchase, buy or sell, or attempt to purchase, buy or sell, any of the kinds of fish named in the foregoing section, during the respective prohibited periods above named.

SEC. 14. Any person who shall be found guilty of a violation of any provision contained in the foregoing act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not less than five dollars and not more than one hundred dollars, and the costs of prosecution, and in default of payment thereof, shall be confined in the county jail until such fine and costs shall be paid; but such imprisonment shall not exceed thirty days.

It will be seen from the above that it is illegal to buy or to sell any muscalonge, black, strawberry, green or white bass from March 1st to July 1st in each year. Now these fish and all other kinds are further protected in our lake and river by Act No. 159, Laws of 1891, as amended by Act No. 180, Laws of 1893, and Local Act 287, Laws of 1885; which laws absolutely prohibit the taking of fish in any manner except by hook and line.

Any person knowingly buying illegally caught fish places himself in the same position as one receiving stolen property. Surely no one desires to place himself in such a position.

We earnestly request the people of Holland to refrain from buying these illegally taken fish, thus removing the incentive which causes these violations of the fish laws and at the same time help our fish peddlers who sell legitimately taken white fish and lake trout, to make an honest living.

Every one can in this manner assist us in our endeavor to protect the fish from utter extermination. Our work in the last two years is even now beginning to bear fruit in the increased respect for the game and fish laws and in the increase in the number of fish.

With the increase in our population and the proportionate increase in the number of shooters and fishermen, the laws must be more rigidly enforced as our game and fish would soon become a thing of the past.

The Dakota Farmer Happy.

THULE, S. D., May 13, '95.

We are having a nice and early spring. I do not think we had any frost since March. Everything looks nice and green and owing to the rains we had the soil is in good condition to receive the seed and things look encouraging for the Dakota farmer. Almost every farmer has from 40 to 80 acres of wheat. At present they are all busy planting corn which did well here as the past two or three years have shown. Parties have bought corn planters (check rowers) with which they plant corn at 20c an acre and does away with hand planting. People will give diversified farming a show and I have no doubt but that it will pay much better than raising all small grain. Cattle is another paying business here, which should be given more attention as there is plenty of range and it costs only 75c to $1.00 per head for herding for the season. Yearlings sold this spring from $7 to $12; 2-year-olds from $18 to $24, or 3c a pound live weight and good 3-year-olds, 30 odd dollars; pork, 3 to 4 cents, live weight; butter and eggs, 9 cents.

John Van der Erve, student at the Western theological seminary at Holland, Mich., preached an eloquent and interesting sermon to us in the Holland language yesterday.

May Crop Report.

Washington, May 10.—The May returns of the department of agriculture show an increase in wheat of 1.5 points from April average, being 82.9 against 81.4 last month and 81.4 in May, 1894. The average of the principal winter wheat states are: Ohio 85, Michigan 78, Indiana 87, Illinois 90, Missouri 90, Kansas 45, California 97; the average of the seven states is 82.3 against 81.5 in April, being an increase of a little less than one point. In the southern states the averages range from 55 in Texas to 43 in Alabama. Winter rye, like wheat, has advanced nearly two points since last month, the average for May being 88.7 against 87 for the same date in April. The percentage of New York is 97, Pennsylvania 92, Michigan 88, Illinois 92, Kansas 94. The prospects for rye throughout the rye belt are fair except in the state of New York, where it is too dry, while in the states of Minnesota and Kansas the crop was considerably damaged by the severe winter and has not recovered. The average condition of winter barley is 94 against 62.3 in the month of May, 1894, and 88.6 in 1893. The lowest conditions are in Texas, Indiana, Iowa, and the highest in New York, California, and Oregon. The condition of spring pasture is 89.7; of mowing land 89.4. The proportion of spring plowing done May 1 is reported as 82.8 per cent against 83.5 last year and 73.4 in 1893.

The organ committee of the First Reformed church made a visit to Grand Rapids this week.

The Zeeland cheese company cleared some boxes of Holland cheese at the Grand Rapids custom house.

The contract for sprinkling main and mill streets was let this week to Libbe Bos for $3.25 per day of actual service.

Huizinga and Baert of this place reduced the fracture and according to latest reports the patient is doing remarkably well.

Ph. Coburn is making his annual tour of inspection as fire warden.

Decoration day will, as usual, be duly observed here. Geo. W. McBride of Grand Haven has been invited to deliver the Memorial address.

L. Schippers, the newly appointed highway commissioner, was looking over the streets and alleys of our town this week.

Marshal Wm. Tiemens started out in his official capacity last week and for the benefit of all offenders we will here state that he carries a chip on his shoulder.

One of our merchants who dispenses refreshments for the thirsty element of our town, was smiling audibly last week in the coolness of his establishment, while suffering humanity was puffing on the sidewalk and asking each other: "Is this hot enough for you?" He piped a chance to make a fortune and sat himself down to devise the glowing headlines, which would fittingly announce to thirsty humanity the blessings and enjoyments of ice cool lemonade and soda. But lo! and behold! the weather clerk not having been duly informed of the matter, resented the neglect and sent down a blizzard, which drove merchant, headlines and the thirsty public near the red-hot stove and from the cavernous depths of the lonely fountain now issue sighs of a misanthropical nature instead of the sparkling beverage.

The latest addition to the wheel-brigade is Nick De Pree, who has just succeeded in managing his elegant wheel.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Van Hees made a visit to Grand Rapids this week.

The school board has been prospecting for a school principal of late to succeed principal Vandenberg. Among the desirable candidates for the position are Prof. Scott of Cannonsburg, Mich., and Mr. Gould of Ypsilanti; the latter gentleman seems to have impressed the board the most favorably of any candidate.

The latest blizzard has done only slight damage in this neighborhood.

The Vriesland cheese factory started up last week with John Borst as manager.

Great consternation was noticeable among a number of our citizens Wednesday and fears were entertained that our street lighting plant would not be able to work that night and thus leave us in awful darkness. Shortly before 5 p. m. a horse was noticed running down main street, dragging along an old washboard and going at a clip which would put Nancy Hanks to shame. Through the cloud of dust raised thereby and which rapidly disappeared in an easterly direction, was recognized the trusty steed of lamplighter Elenbas. Fortunately the trotter was caught somewhere in the east and returned before darkness had set in.

JAMESTOWN.

In the 32nd year of her life, Grace, wife of Weba De Boer, crossed the river of death last Sunday morning, leaving her husband and four little ones sad and desolate. Her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John De Vries of Hopkins, three brothers and two sisters were at the funeral held in the Ref. church here on Tuesday. Rev. P. Schut of Zutphen and Rev. J. Poppen of this place officiating. A large concourse of people were present as the departed was well known and her kind words will long linger in the minds of her friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin De Vries and little daughter Gertrude expect to stay a week or two with friends here.

The three-months-old boy of W. De Boer is very sick and not expected to live.

Mrs. Egbert Elders is also quite low, apparently just wasting away.

Miss Myrtle Barclay spent a day and night with her sister, Mrs. Mary A. Sage, who is recovering from a severe attack of the whooping cough.

Peet, who died there recently after a lingering illness of consumption at the age of 69 years. She leaves five sisters and two brothers. Measles is an epidemic in this vicinity. The Washington literary society will give an entertainment in a few weeks. The society is in a prosperous condition and is doing some very good work for the advancement of our young people.

Richard A. Wagenaar and Judge Schilleman of Noordoos police court have returned from Port Sheldon bay, where they enjoyed themselves a few days at fishing. They report a good catch.

OTTAWA COUNTY TIMES

HOLLAND, MICH., FRIDAY, MAY 17, 1895.

Good crop prospects are reported from all directions.

The gold reserve is $96,000,000. That has a very healthy look.

A Canada fruit grower says that he found a remedy for the curculio in merely hanging cedar branches in his plum and cherry trees at the blossoming time.

When July tries to crowd May out of her place in the procession of the months, May generally manages to get back again and the scramble is usually bad for the crops.

Farmers are beginning to discover that there is money in the raising of mutton sheep. The consumption of mutton has greatly increased within the past six years.

Even some of the Republican organs are becoming so disgusted with the course of the present legislature that they are reminding it of the right of our people to govern themselves.

Since the black eye was delivered to the Bell telephone patents by the United States' Supreme Court, telephone rates in over fifty per cent of the Michigan cities have been reduced. All due to threatened or actual competition.

Bee-keeping causes but little hindrance to the work of the main crops.
America produces about 25,000,000 pounds of honey and 1,000,000 of wax, all worth $6,000,000. Most of this is from clusters of but a few hives scattered over many states.

Put out fruit trees. Apples, peaches, pears, plums and all other fruit trees.
There is not a fruit bearing tree that will not pay in this section if the northern appliances for spraying, etc., are used. Farmers should do something beside raise wheat if they want to make money.

If a horse balks, do not whip him but let him stop and think it over. After a little reflection and a few tosses of the head, he will often start of his volition.
Talk to him kindly, pet him, loosen a strap or a buckle, and he may forget his obstinate spell. An apple or a bunch of grass from the roadside may win.

"On the coinage question," began the rural politician to the grocery salesman.
"I stand square on the platform."
"It ain't standing square is what is the matter with you, Silas," interrupted his wife, having completed her trade of eggs for calico. "It is standin' round; what is ailin' you an' half these other fellows that order to be out plowin' instead of savin' the country with their mouths."

No matter how brutally the horse is punished, how excruciating the pain inflicted upon him, he suffers it mutely.
He does not cry out like a dog, but by reason of his fine organization he suffers more acutely. This characteristic of the horse should be remembered and his unvoiced protest against abuse should be to his keeper the more pathetic appeal for kind treatment and humane consideration.

TAX PAYERS, LOOK AT THIS.

Here is an interesting situation, says
the Lansing Journal, for the tax payers of Michigan to ponder over.

The state tax for the biennial
period, 1891 and 1892
were.....$2,863,060.21

The state tax for the biennial
period, 1893 and 1894, $3,620,450.58

Auditor General Turner says that the state tax for the biennial period, 1895 and 1896 will not be far from $4,500,000.

Is there any food for consideration in these figures? The valuation of property in Michigan is not increasing any at present, and the people are of the opinion that instead of increasing the taxes, which are already burdensome, they ought to be decreased. Taxes will be higher in Michigan than they have ever been before and the present legislature and the lavish expenditures of the present state administration are alone responsible for it.

Crooked Work in Chicago.

Chicago, May 10.—Frauds of the grossest nature in the pay rolls of the department of public works have been uncovered by Commissioner Kent. Dead men, the commissioner says, have been enrolled as laborers and their names forged to time checks; names have also been duplicated and residences located where there were vacant lots. All of these facts are now in possession of commissioner Kent and in course of preparation for submission to the legal department of the city for prosecution. It is estimated that a million dollars has been stolen from the city in this manner.

Saved His Child from Death.

Spokane, Wash., May 10.—Newton Blagg, a rancher residing near Chatteroy, came home just in time to save his 2-year-old from a horrible death.
His wife, driven insane from religious frenzy, had built an altar in the woods, near the house, upon which she had secured the little babe, preparatory to roasting it alive. She was engaged in offering up a prayer for her sacrifice when her husband happily arrived in time to save his child. He brought his wife here for commitment in the insane asylum.

PERSONAL BEAUTIFICATION.

Some Curious Information on the Subject From a Famous Doctor.

A correspondent has been interviewing Dr. Robert Fischer of Vienna, who is well known as an expert in all that pertains to cosmetics, and has obtained from him some curious information.

"When is your regular season, doctor?" the correspondent asked.
"Well, you see, I have a twofold season—the social and the individual. The former is the ball and party season. The latter depends upon the betrothal or marriage of individuals, and may coincide with any period of the year."
"Marriage?" the correspondent asked in surprise.

"Quite so—marriage. Numbers of mothers put their daughters through a whole course of beautification previous to launching them out in that sea of trouble. That's the time when the most elaborate preparations of the human frame are ordered and undertaken. I have a great deal more to do than that for the most fashionable balls of the year."

Dr. Fischer went on to say: "I am asked perhaps to remove the rufous tint from the tip of a Grecian nose where no amount of exuberant fancy will explain its presence as the result of a modest habit of blushing. I perform the operation without pain or difficulty, insisting upon a term of eight days, but then I do it thoroughly and once for all, and never again will the nose blush unless the rest of the face first gives the example."

"Another time an islet of hairs on the face, an inconvenient tuft on the chin, cheek or neck, or else an impertinent mustache (which outweighs a good half of the fair one's dowry, and sometimes the whole round sum) has to be banished. We often have long engagements in Austria, with no breach of promise law to guarantee them, and during all that time a girl ought to be growing better looking."

"The one taste which may be said to be universal in Vienna is a liking for blond hair. It would seem to be innate, like mischief and coquetry. Viennese hair dyes are therefore mostly destined to impart a rich golden color to the flowing tresses that are usually brown or black. Have I thus metamorphosed many dark beauties into blonds? Countless besides of them. And they have not a spark of practical gratitude either; not a single one of them would ever recommend me to another as a friend who has been tried and not found wanting. But that perhaps is human nature."

"Look at that innocent looking white object, just like a waxlight," said Dr. Fischer. "Could you guess what that is for? No? Well, I'll tell you. It is a tear pump."

"A what?" our correspondent asked, with a gasp.

"A tear pump. You seem overcome. Perhaps I have given it too drastic a name. Yes, people grow rapidly nervous in Vienna. Well, this innocent implement is used for the purpose of irritating the lachrymal glands and producing tears—probably on days of mourning and such like occasions."

A Couple of Coincidences.

Some little time ago I heard of an occurrence that took place at Broadway and Chambers street on a cable car, and incidentally it was stated that no one saw it because there was no other vehicle on the block. As this was in the middle of the afternoon it seemed incredible till I tested it personally. Twice I have seen that very condition of things right there, once on the block below Chambers and once on the block above, and again on the heavily traveled block between John and Fulton, and yesterday morning at 10 o'clock there was a similar vacuum of vehicles on the block between Cortlandt and Liberty. Below and above, Broadway was full enough of wagons going both ways. It reminded me of the passageway for the Israelites through the Red sea. New York is full of such things if only one happens or is idle enough to observe them. On a priori reasoning, or principles of average, the odds apparently would be millions to one against such an event. Yet I have seen it four times within a short period.

Some might say here that the man who looks for such things is the only man who finds them. Let me set against this another experience of mine to the contrary. For something over six years I have looked at the number of every railway car I passed, trying to hit one whose number was an even thousand. I have never hit it yet. Once, on the Lehigh Valley road, I thought I had. I spied a lot of brand new coal cars just out of the shop on a switch. The numbers began at 1980 and ran up in regular order, and I fairly trembled with the joy of fruition that only a crank knows. There were just 20 of them, and the last number was 1999!

The most aggravating circumstance of all was that a friend of mine to whom I told my quest in 1892 on my way to the City of Mexico came galloping through the train inside of an hour to tell me he had just seen an even thousand car as we pulled out of San Luis Potosi, and I was looking out on the outside of the train! I have never forgotten that fellow to this day.—New York Sun.

A Uhlán Deserter's Adventures.

At the time of the Franco-German war a Uhlán belonging to the Fourth Uhlán regiment deserted. He was apprehended recently in Alsace and taken to his regiment. The Uhlán has been tried by court martial at Thorn for deserting the colors and sentenced to five years' incarceration in a fortress. He has been sent to Spandau to undergo the sentence. This Uhlán deserter made off at the time of the siege of Paris, fled to China and entered the Chinese army, in which he served for 14 years. Ten years after he returned to Germany and obtained a situation as overseer in a manufactory in Alsace, which he retained up to the time he was arrested as a deserter.—London News.

A Tack Driving Machine.

A very ingenious machine for automatically driving tacks or nails, says the Providence Journal, has been contrived by Charles D. Rogers of that city. The machine has a reservoir for tacks, and the first effect of depressing the handle is to move a bar endwise, vibrate the agitator and shake the tacks to insure the sliding of the foremost tacks into frictional engagement with the side of the descending driver after the separator pin has been retracted. At the instant the reservoir commences to be forced downward the point part of the cut off lever automatically drops from its proximity to the tacks. The retraction of the pin from contact with the row of tacks occurs when the beveled end of the driver holder in its downward movement engages the lower dog of the cut off lever, while at the same time the row of tacks advances and is held in check by the driver, which is being forced downward to its limit, thus engaging the standing tack and driving it into the leather beneath, the jaws holding the tack in position springing apart to permit its passing through. Upon removing the pressure spring returns the driver to normal position, and while it is returning the tacks in the runway are again agitated and the point of the cut off pin introduced between the first and second tacks on the runway by the action of the lever, just before the completion of the driver's return stroke. A lug secured to the reservoir connection comes in contact with the stop of a rod, thus lifting the latter and elevating a blade into the rear side of the point part of the forward tack, and as the driver finishes the upward stroke the blade deflects the forward into the driver chamber, where it is arrested by the spring jaws.

A Bologna 3,750 Feet In Length.

There revival of the trades after the long stagnation which followed in the wake of the crusades was responsible for many fantastic procession freaks in the larger towns of western Europe. For an instance we are told that in the councilors' procession, which took place at Nuremberg in 1487, the bakers of the town exhibited a loaf of bread weighing 1,141 pounds, and that in the same procession a cheesemaker exhibited a "star shaped cheese which put three horses on their mettle to pull it through the streets mounted on a goodly dray." The old account further says that this bread and cheese, which was distributed free of charge among the merry-makers, "was dinner sufficient for upward of 3,000 persons." In the New Year's procession at Konigsberg in 1558 a bologna sausage exhibited by the "butcherment" was 622 feet in length and was carried on the shoulders of 67 men and boys. The one exhibited in the same city in the year 1583 was over 1,600 feet in length and weighed 434 pounds. But the giant of all sausages, and perhaps the largest thing of the kind ever made, was exhibited by the Konigsberg butchers on New Year's day in 1601, when they paraded the streets with a bologna 3,750 feet in length and weighing nearly 2,000 pounds. It was carried on the shoulders of 187 men, the first and last in the column each having it wound around their necks.—St. Louis Republic.

The Troublesome Rhedive.

The Rhedive is not a wise ruler, perhaps not even an endurable one, but still it is in his name that we English govern, and to have to be perpetually hinting that he must be deposed or even his house superseded is not pleasant, not a process which, however necessary—tends to diminish the English civilis' drawback in governing their disagreeableness to the upper classes of the governed. They get along with the proletariat well enough, for the latter like justice and light taxation, but the general, who feel throttled by our inflexibility and "priggish" desire for European justice, cannot reconcile themselves to our authority.

They fret, and their titular ruler frets, and those whom they influence fret, till, whenever there is a far, rumors are circulated of approaching revolt, and alarmists talk of massacre, and half Europe looks on, thinking that, though the English govern successfully, they govern without amiability or consideration for feelings, which the continent holds to be exceedingly important. The Rhedive is, we do not doubt, a forward person, but we do not know a European prince who, in his position, would not be boiling over, or who, if a weak man, would not be tempted to give little pin pricks to his aggressive tutor whenever he saw that that was safe.—London Spectator.

Judging by the reports occasionally sent from here to the state and Chicago papers the fake reporter is very active this spring. In yesterday's papers a report is published from here stating that Capt. Morton of the life saving crew believed that he had located the wreck of the Chicora about four miles from the harbor. The report is a pure fabrication and Capt. Morton says he knows nothing of the matter. Whoever the reporter may be it certainly is not to his credit to send out such stuff.

HURT BY COG WHEELS.

Gerrit Van Lente Has His Right Arm and Side Badly Cut.

Yesterday afternoon Gerrit Van Lente a young man of about 19 years was very badly hurt while at work at the Standard Roller Mills. He is employed as a sweeper at the mill and while trying to brush some dust from a bolted reel he reached over and behind two cog wheels, his coat sleeve was caught and he was drawn up between the cogs, his right arm and side from the elbow down to the lower rib being badly cut up and torn. W. A. Holley who was working on the floor beneath heard his screams and quickly pulled the signal rope to shut down the mill and then ran up to the fourth floor. The young man's clothes had been torn off so that he was able to release himself. Dr. Yates was telephoned for and he was placed under the influence of chloroform and conveyed home and his wounds carefully dressed. C. J. De Roo of the Milling Company immediately telegraphed to Grand Rapids for a trained nurse who is now attending him. At present the injured man is as comfortable as can be expected. With the exercise of ordinary caution it could hardly seem possible that anyone should get caught in the cog wheels, in the manner in which this accident occurred.

Lilacs in California.

A young man entered the shop of a local florist and asked, "Do you want any lilacs today?" "Yes; bring me half a dozen bunches of white ones." When the young man had gone, the florist said: "That young man is a born speculator, a natural business man. Pretty nearly all the lilacs in Oakland were failures this year because they made the mistake of starting to bloom last fall during a warm spell and got nipped by the frost. As soon as this young man found that out he slipped down to San Jose, went to every person who had a lilac bush in his yard, contracted for the blooms, and now he has a corner on the lilac trade of San Francisco and Oakland. "By the way," continued the florist, "did you ever think what a hold on popular favor that old flower, the lilac, has? Of course the pretty white lilacs are popular, but we sell just as many of the lavender colored. Everybody buys them. As soon as the violets go out lilacs come in, and the women love their fragrance. About the premature bloom of the Oakland lilacs last fall? That was not strange, as the lilac begins to set its buds in June for the blooming of the following spring, and a spell of warm weather in the fall is liable to hurry them forward in time to be frozen by the next cold snap."—Oakland (Cal.) Enquirer.
